Bombay Again Terrorized By Riot Renewals

Hindu-Moslem Riots Continue—Believe Over 200 Have Been Killed

REPORT RELIGIOUS STRIFE SPREADING

BOMBAY, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Bombay was terrorized today by renewed stabbings, shootings and beatings in continuing Hindu-Moslem riots.

Dozens of cases of looting and arson have been reported, and Moslem strollers in the center of the city were doused with acid hurled by an unknown assailant who escaped capture.

Strife Spreads

Dispatches from Calcutta said the religious strife has spread to that city. The Bengal government admitted, however, only that bus and streetcar service was disrupted temporarily because of "rumors."

Wary Bombay troops who bedded down in Bombay streets after yesterday's bloody fighting were called to action again at dawn.

Troops in Calcutta were forced to fire on tight-packed mobs of demonstrators. British and Indian soldiers not on duty were confined to their barracks to prevent casualties.

More Than 200 Killed

More than 200 persons are believed to have been killed, and some 600 others injured during fighting since Sunday.

A special internment camp has been established in a Bombay suburb to harbor more than 2,000 Hindus and Moslems arrested during the outbreaks.

Reinforcements have been summoned to supplement British and Indian troops patrolling Calcutta streets in armored cars and trucks covered with wire to ward off missiles.

New Hampshire Man And Son Flying West To Try And Reconcile With Barbara

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Longdon T. Walker, New Hampshire mountain hotel chef, and his two-year-old namesake son, left for San Francisco by airplane today.

Walker said they were en route to meet his wife, Mrs. Barbara Bemis Walker, 23-year-old North Conway waitress, who vanished last July and came forward five days later at Lake Tahoe, California.

In interviews she said she was tired of living in the East and was fascinated by life in California. Over the long distance telephone she urged her husband to start west.

Whether Walker had decided to take the advice of his wife or hopes to induce her to return east was not revealed at his departure.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Annual program of raking and collecting leaves is about to begin in New Castle. Under some trees this morning it was noted that large quantities of leaves have already fallen to the streets and yards. Dry weather, probably has caused this situation earlier than usual.

Residents of the Euclid avenue district informed Pa. News this morning that they discovered two baby squirrels dead near their homes. An examination of the squirrels revealed that they did not die a natural death, but seemed to have been killed by some non-thinking human who cares little for wild life.

Soviet Russia Now Committed On Trieste Issue

PARIS, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky committed Russia today to the council of foreign ministers' decision to internationalize Trieste.

The Soviet spokesman told the Italian political and territorial commission, however, that he endorsed the Yugoslav demand to the territory as deserving careful consideration.

Vishinsky strove hard to keep the door open for an eventual change in position if circumstances permit.

He severely esecrated Italian policies and hinted that if the peace conference should adopt decisions on the disputed port other than those adopted by the big four council the Soviets would consider the path was open to a quick switch to outright support of the Yugoslav demands.

Maritime Strike Ordered To Begin; To Close All Ports

Expect 90,000 Seamen Will Leave Ships—May Put 400,000 Men Out Of Work

PACIFIC COAST "JUMPS THE GUN"

(By International News Service)

A general Maritime strike pulling 90,000 seamen from their ships at Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf Coast ports was ordered to begin today at noon.

The strike is expected to put some 400,000 men out of work and close every port in the country.

It was called by the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific both affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Jump The Gun

On the Pacific Coast 8,000 Maritime workers "jumped the gun" by 24 hours and walked off their ships.

In New York the strike time table calls for the men to leave their ships at noon (EDT) with picketing to begin early tomorrow morning.

The strike was ordered despite last minute attempts to delay it at least until Tuesday when the wage stabilization board in Washington said it would hear new evidence concerning the wage demands of the seamen.

John Hawk, vice president of the SIU replied however that by Tuesday the ships will be tied up for five days. He added that the WSB had "all the information they needed."

C. I. O. Support Promised

Support of CIO unions of the AFL strike was promised by Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union and Harry Bridges of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union. They announced their members would "cooperate and respect picket lines."

Enrollment In First Grades Shows Increase

Superintendent Frank L. Burton of the New Castle public school system said today that the enrollment on the first day of school, Wednesday, September 4, was 7668, slightly higher than was anticipated.

The increase over estimate was in the number of first graders who appeared on Wednesday.

On Wednesday 665 first grade boys and girls were enrolled, which is 84 more than on opening day of 1946.

In past years the enrollment has shown a daily increase for the first week or ten days and it is expected that by mid-September the total will be close to 7900.

Presbytery To Act On Call Of New Moravia Minister

At its meeting on September 17, members of the Shenango Presbytery will officially act on the call of Rev. Coburn Sweet, Jr., of Beaver Falls, Pa., to the pulpit of the Moravia Presbyterian Church.

In a statement to The News this morning Rev. Sweet said that he began his ministry in the Moravia church on August 25, but due to the fact that Shenango Presbytery would not meet until the middle of this month, he could not officially accept the pastorate.

It is expected that the Presbytery members will unanimously accept Rev. Sweet into the Presbytery, thus opening the way for him to officially accept the call of the Moravia church.

The new minister has been supplying Presbyterian churches in this area for the past months, previous to his ministry at Moravia.

OPA Preparing To Hit Meat Hoarders

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—OPA agents were ready today to crack down on holders of large caches of meat in New York and Chicago to prevent rebirth of the black market.

The OPA prepared to ferret out black marketeers as a spokesman for the price decontrol board said that there was "little chance" that price ceilings would be restored on dairy products at this time.

Discovery of the meat hoarding OPA enforcement chief who implied that the meat was being held for distribution through black market channels after Sept. 9 when retail price ceilings go into effect.

Hoarders Known

Moncharch said that OPA knows the identity of the hoarders and they will be named if any attempt is made to move the meat into the black market.

The OPA official declared that meat also is being stored in other large cities and that potential black marketeers "may try it" in the future in even more cities. He said OPA agents were making a nationwide search for such hoarding.

Moncharch asserted that the meat stocks would either "go out under ceilings" after Sept. 9 or would "not go out." He expressed belief that the hoarders would be unable to dispose of their supplies before that date because of the "huge volume" they had accumulated.

He claimed the large stocks were bought at high untrolled prices and (Continued on Page Two)

Byrnes Leaves For Germany To Outline Policies

Secretary Of State Will Make Important Address At Stuttgart Tomorrow

WILL SHOW WHAT U. S. HAS NOW DONE

PARIS, Sept. 5.—(INS)—United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes left Paris by air for Berlin today on a schedule which will bring him to Stuttgart tomorrow for an important policy speech.

The secretary's plane, an American C-47 transport, left from Orly airport in bad weather at 4:27 a. m. (EDT).

Associates of the American spokesman said he will emphasize frankly in his Stuttgart address the dangers arising from lack of Soviet cooperation in Germany.

Will Inform World

He will also, they said, inform the world particularly the German people—that the United States has done in its efforts to unite Germany economically.

Byrnes' associates said he will touch on Soviet refusal to accept his plan for a demilitarization treaty, Soviet refusal to accept America's proposal for a joint administration of all occupation zones, and American reluctance to continue bearing the heaviest costs of the occupation due to Russia's objection to international trade.

They said also that Byrnes will cite the danger of the present allied division as encouraging a rebirth of German militarism.

The speech will be delivered before officers of the American military government and the German minister-president of the three states in the American zones.

Election Reaction In Greece Is Awaited

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The western world today awaited popular reaction to the elections in Greece as the United States aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt cut its way into Greek waters on a good-will mission.

British confidence that the dissident minorities would accept the verdict of the populace, which returned King George II to the throne, was reflected in the London announcement that troops will be withdrawn from that country.

However, their withdrawal was not taken to mean that they will be sent home. There was a belief that they might be sent to near trouble spots where their use is considered more likely.

May Seize Opportunity

Some observers feared that, aside from the leftist and diehard republican elements in Greece, outsiders might seize the instant of transition for some move inimical to Greece: Both Bulgaria and Albania are making claims to territory now claimed by Athens.

These observers see the time as ripe for such a move since, in the transition period Greece would be less prepared to resist than it might (Continued on Page Two)

Congressman Invites Senate Investigating Committee To Question Him At Home

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Rep. Andrew May (D) Ky., today invited the Senate Mead committee to send a subcommittee to his Prestonsburg, Ky., home to question him about his connection with the Garsson munitions combine.

May, recuperating from the heart attack that blocked the Mead committee's efforts to get him on the witness stand last July, also offered to appear before the group in Washington at a later date, "as determined by my physician."

The congressman's offer for a sick room session was contained in a letter to Sen. Mead (D) N. Y., Senate war investigating committee chairman, made public by the office of May's Washington counsel, Warren E. McGee.

Also made public was a 12-page statement which it was said May would have given the committee if he had been able to appear last July 26.

The statement denied that May chairman of the House military affairs committee, profited financially from his efforts in behalf of the Garsson enterprises.

Airliner Burns After Crash In Nevada Area

Plane Enroute From New York To San Francisco Crashes At Elko, Nevada

ONE SURVIVOR IS SMALL BOY

ELKO, Nev., Sept. 5.—(INS)—A Translux airliner bound from New York to San Francisco crashed and burned five miles west of Elko today, killing from 17 to 22 persons.

The CAA office in Elko said 23 persons were aboard the plane and that the only known survivor of the crash was a 4-year-old boy who was taken to an Elko hospital.

In San Francisco, the Translux office said 21 passengers were aboard.

Seventeen Bodies Removed

Deputy Sheriff Edward Lundberg reported seventeen bodies were removed from the debris of the shattered plane and would be taken to Elko.

The surviving child, whose identity was not immediately learned, was taken to a hospital along with a woman passenger who later died.

The plane crashed in rugged country at about 6,000-foot altitude about 1:30 a. m., approximately ten minutes after contacting the CAA range-finding station in Elko. There was a heavy ground fog over the Elko river.

No Indication Of Trouble

The CAA office said the pilot gave no indication that the plane was in trouble when he contacted the range finding station.

The plane left New York at 9 a. m. yesterday morning and was due in San Francisco at 3:45 a. m. today.

Stopping at Cheyenne, Wyo., the plane changed crews before continuing on toward San Francisco. All available ambulances, nurses and doctors were rushed to the scene of the crash. The plane wreckage was still burning five hours after the crash.

Reports Persist British Troops Leaving Greece

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Persistent reports of large scale British troop withdrawals from Greece monopolized space in the London press today.

The London News Chronicle quoted authoritative sources as saying British forces in Greece will be reduced some 30 per cent within the next six weeks.

The Daily Express reported from Athens that 15 thousand troops will leave that area within six weeks, with the withdrawal scheduled to begin Sept. 15.

An Athens dispatch to the News Chronicle, meanwhile, said eleven persons were killed and eight others wounded today near Sparta when "Communists" attacked a group of Royalists celebrating victory in Sunday's plebiscite.

The newspaper said announcement of troop withdrawals might be welcomed by Leftists and Republicans, but would certainly cause "consternation" among Royalists.

ELECTION REACTION IN GREECE IS AWAITED

However, the presence of British forces and the FDR and its flotilla—including a light cruiser and several destroyers—would discourage forceful action.

It is this situation that appears to have inspired criticism of the "good-will" tour of the FDR at this time. However, diplomats believe it constitutes an effective countermove to the move of the Soviet Ukraine to have the Greek situation brought before the security council as a threat to the peace just at the time of elections.

Moreover, on the Soviet side, Foreign Minister V. Molotov at Paris and before has been strongly outspoken against British action in Greece, the lone Balkan state to remain outside the Soviet sphere.

OPA Enforcement Division Indicted

Thomas E. Murray, acting director of the Office of Price Administration, announced today that contrary to any unofficial reports, the district office has not been advised of any contemplated reduction in force to be effective now or in the future.

His enforcement division has been augmented by an allocation of 35 new positions consisting of investigators, attorneys, and clerical help.

Mr. Murray further stated that while decontrol of some commodities will necessarily lighten the load in certain categories, permissible adjustments in other commodities and the resultant increase in the workload will in many instances allow for re-assignment of present employees.

Dark colored rubies are called "male" stones, and the lighter ones "female" stones.

that holders would suffer financially if they sold the meat at ceiling prices.

Takes Look At Dairy Prices
Meanwhile, the price decontrol board "took a look" at the dairy price situation. The board has warned that it will restore ceilings if prices have advanced "unreasonably" since Aug. 20 when it ruled that milk, butter and other dairy products should remain control free.

A spokesman said the board's study of price trends was a "routine procedure" and that members did not believe that sufficient time had elapsed to determine whether decontrol is justified. He said: "There is very little chance that the board at the present time will put ceilings back on dairy products. We don't think there has been any significant change in prices, although there has been some movement in butter prices."

Monchash disclosed the meat caches as he outlined a sweeping OPA drive against meat and used automobile black marketers, sugar coupon counterfeiters and violators of other OPA regulations.

He said that a staff of between 5,000 and 6,000 investigators would roam the country to stamp out any black market activities. About 1,200 of these agents will be stationed in the New York area and a total of 2,500 or more will devote their time to meat violations.

The enforcement chief asserted that OPA was "satisfied" that this number of investigators would be able to make a "real dent" in black market operations.

Rioters ignored heavy police and army patrols to stalk down victims, stab them, then hurried slip away. Snipers are active in smaller Indian communities, as well as in Calcutta and Bombay.

A major clash occurred in Bombay when more than 1,000 rioters battled in a Moslem cemetery with knives and stones. They were dispersed only by police fire.

Ask Reinforcements
Provincial authorities, meanwhile, have appealed for reinforcements for the 8,000 hard-pressed police and troops operating in 30 square miles of Metropolitan Bombay.

Thousands of residents have fled the city, where it is feared the carnage may rival Calcutta's recent riots in which 3,500 persons were slain.

Sir Andrew Clow, Bombay's governor, has returned with his ministers to the city from the summer capital.

They estimated that since Sunday, when Moslems first protested the installation of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's interim government, authorities have opened fire on demonstrators some 60 times.

town area and arrested nearly 100 ringleaders. Only a scattering of them were ex-servicemen.

The turmoil started with a bang almost as soon as the great VFW parade, watched by 1,500,000, came to a close.

Most of the trouble occurred on Tremont street, between Boylston and School streets where bonfires raged high at every corner. Several threatened buildings as the flames leaped 30 feet in the air. The rowdies hampered firemen and openly defied police to do anything about it.

Fallen aboard for reserves as gangs climbed called fire engines, took hoses from the fire fighters and damaged bells and equipment.

Youths Enraged
Some firemen swept the hoodlums away with streams of water, after which the enraged youths kicked in windows on Tremont, West and Boylston streets. Others rampaged across the Common, pushed women and desecrated memorials.

The firing police turned first on the gang in the Common. A total of 87 persons were arrested on charges of drunkenness, while eight others were locked up on charges of larceny and destruction of property.

The riot marked the third straight night that vandals have defied police and taken over in the downtown area.

Greece Strikes Back At Soviet

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Greece today struck back vigorously at Soviet accusations she was stirring up war in the Balkans, recalling that only a few years ago Moscow was contrabanding a virtually unarmed Greece for slowing up German advances into Russia.

Greek Ambassador Vassili Dendramis presented his country's defense before the United Nations Security Council against Soviet Ukrainian charges.

Workmen began to install something new in curtains this morning in the First Methodist church. The large curtain divides the main auditorium of the church from the Sunday school assembly room.

The curtain, which is known as a spun glass curtain, is entirely new in this area, with no other public building in the city having one. It resembles the present motion picture screen, except that it is much larger.

Workmen from the A. Mannaux company, Pittsburgh, are installing the innovation in church furnishings.

Some months ago the outer covering of the old curtain of the church fell off into the auditorium, thus necessitating the replacement, which will beautify the interior of the church.

RAINBOW GIRLS FETE ADVISOR AT DINNER

Officers of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly No. 1, New Castle, met Wednesday evening at a local tea room to honor their chief officer, Miss Harriet Brinton, worthy advisor.

The affair was entirely planned and carried out to the smallest detail by the girls themselves, and came as a complete surprise to the honor guest.

Places were laid for 21 at a long table beautifully decorated. A large reproduction of the Rainbow emblem with the pot of gold connected by a gold chain centered the table, flanked by tall white candles in crystal candelabra and bouquets of flowers in rainbow hues.

Places were marked by a rainbow symbol in the form of the letter R in rainbow colors, each holding a special favor, a white fall rose arranged for the hair, to be worn during the evening ceremonies which followed.

A small golden gavel marked the place of the honored guest in token of her station. Her place was also marked by a gift attractively wrapped and tied in white and rainbow colors.

Chairman of arrangements was Miss Charlene Vogan.

Joining with the girls to do their worthy advisor honor were Mrs. Mildred Wygant, district deputy of Rainbow; Mrs. Agnes Allen, president of the advisory board, and Mrs. Evelyn McKibben, mother advisor of the local assembly.

Following dinner, Miss Brinton presided over the regularly scheduled meeting of Rainbow in the east lodge room at the Cathedral, the last regular meeting in her term of office.

She will be the chief installing officer at the Rainbow meeting, September 18, when a new corps of officers will be installed.

Miss Brinton is also grand confidential observer of the state assembly, appointed for the coming year at the state convention held in Uniontown in August.

For the social time in the main dining room after the meeting, a style show, cards, and games furnished entertainment. Refreshments were served.

The XB-36 And Future Outlook

The military future of the Army Air Forces' huge new XB-36 bomber looks hazy to laymen and it may be that it is none too clear even to the experts. With guided missiles coming on apace, it is possible that this air vehicle for delivering deadly freight to chosen targets may already be obsolete.

However that may be, even the pictures of this sky behemoth are exciting. The photograph showing the XB-36 and a B-29 bomber standing beside each other on the ground makes the four-motored Superfortress look like a single-seater next to a transport. The contrast gives a far better idea of the great bomber's size than the account stating that it is 163 feet long, has a wing span of 230 feet, and that its tail rises 47 feet into the air. Here is a really big ship!

It is exciting also to read that the six motors of the XB-36 develop 18,000 horsepower, that it can carry 30 tons of bombs, and that it has a range of 10,000 miles. The big bomber could cover the distance from San Francisco to Tokyo and return non-stop.

The advent of the XB-36 is a clear indication that airplanes will continue to grow in size. There may be a limit somewhere but it has not been reached. It is worth noting that on its first test flight it "exceeded all expectations for performance." No matter what lies ahead of the bomber as a weapon of war, it points to bigger and better aircraft for carrying passengers and freight in time of peace.

John Stuart Curry

The death of John Stuart Curry at the age of 48 is a tragic loss to American art. His work, like those of most other leading painters of his time, has been alternately hailed and assailed by a public and by critics sharply divided over what is good and what is bad or mediocre art. But there is no denying his imagination and the sharp impact that he had on American painting of his generation.

Mr. Curry was one of a trio of Middle Western artists, including Thomas Hart Benton and the late Grant Wood, who led the revival of painting of the American scene. In common with most other artists of his time he went to Paris to study with the masters of modern art congregated there. But he was uncertain and unhappy abroad and it was not until he returned to his native Kansas in 1931 that the found himself and began turning out the canvases and water colors which brought him fame.

These paintings were realistic but it was realism of a harsh and violent sort rather than the romantic pastoral quality that marked much of American painting in the past. In such paintings as "Baptism in Kansas," "Tornado," and his John Brown he portrayed people, the soil, and the forces of nature with a stern beauty mingled with a bursting vitality and power. He was American to the roots and he made a rich contribution to the development of a purely American art.

Setting The New Air Pace

There is much to think about in the outcome of the National Air Race classics held this year at Cleveland, though certainly developments were along lines expected by close followers of aviation. The races, however, served both to dramatize, and to provide conclusive proof of, trends that had seemed probable but possibly not inevitable.

In both the Bendix Cross-Country Trophy classic and the Thompson Trophy closed-course race, the outstanding events of the meeting, prewar records were made to seem like something out of the '90s. In the Thompson trophy event, all ten entrants exceeded the previous record of an average 283 miles an hour. The Bendix winner broke the old record for cross-country flying by a fantastic gap of 153 miles an hour.

And even so, these speeds were a sort of last salute to a dying order, for in both cases Army jet planes in exhibition races proved that for speed the reciprocal engine just can't compete. In straight-away tests the jets set an unofficial record of 578 miles an hour, and in one case flew the course at 611 miles an hour.

But of most significance was the fact that virtually all the competing planes, whether jet or orthodox, were standard models, built originally for all-round performance under grueling all-weather conditions. This year the battle-tested planes carried the day, and significantly not one injury occurred during the four-day meeting.

What Is A Nation?

Included among the nine official Soviet delegates to the Allied congress of Paris are the foreign ministers of the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. Their voices have not been heard and attempts to interview them have been thwarted.

In 1940, following a Soviet complaint that a defensive alliance among the three Baltic nations (combined population 6,000,000) constituted a threat to the Soviet Union (nearly 200,000,000) red tanks rolled in and occupied the Baltic cities and towns. A few days later all parties other than the tiny communist party had been declared illegal. Followed elections, with no names on the ballot except those of the communist front.

The puppet governments thus elected clamored for incorporation into the Soviet Union and this found sympathetic response in Moscow. Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia became, according to official decree of the supreme soviet, sister republics in the USSR. In the months and years since that time, the NKVD, the Soviet secret police, has been engaged in sovietizing these peoples by a well known pattern of terror.

The United States and Britain never have recognized Moscow's action in the Baltic but they have done nothing to undo it. They will have this chance when the foreign ministers finally arrive at Polish boundary questions. Meanwhile the unchallenged presence at Paris of Moscow's Baltic stooges may be the Russian idea of a fait accompli. Have American and British delegates, by their silence, given tacit recognition to such an eclipse of liberty?

Does the recent State department dictum against pressure and aggression against small nations apply to what already has happened and in a region where America has no "special interests"? Or was it intended merely to apply to liberty-loving peoples in parts of the world where Americans might be interested?

U. S. forces are in Europe, it seems, to keep the peace if they can find it.

One thing missing in this reconversion period is the $15 silk shirt which followed World War I, or most any kind of shirt.

London paper says Uncle Sam now is the watchdog of Europe. Is this a comedown or promotion from his role of banker?

There are signs that the real estate boom is dying down, such as reports that a man the other day asked the price before signing a contract and that some prospects demand to see properties before buying.

WHEN PARENTS DO EVERYTHING

Is your son or daughter still too close to the crib to enter college? You know the story of "The Little Red Hen and the Grain of Wheat."

"Who will help me sow the wheat?"

"Not I," said the Duck.
"Not I," said the Mouse.
"Not I," said the Pig.

"Then I will sow it myself," said Little Red Hen, and she did.
The Little Red Hen was far smarter than many parents are, especially parents of the average young man or woman entering college (the GIs excepted, of course).

Few parents even ask the son or daughter whether he or she will help assemble all the clothes and the like, or pack the trunk, or rope it, or get it off to the depot, or purchase the ticket and check the baggage. Poorly playing Little Red Hen, many a mother and father does all these things for the youth.

Charitable Attitude
Perhaps, we should be charitable toward the poor little duck, toward the poor little mouse, and toward the poor little pig. They may have been too weak and inexperienced to help the Little Red Hen.

Yet, this Little Red Hen must have supposed the duck, mouse and pig were able to help her, else she hardly would have asked them if they wished to help her.

On the contrary, many parents of the college youth seem not to assume that this youth could get his own things ready for going to college, look after the packing, roping, tagging, and checking of the baggage; even after the purchase of his own ticket.

What is more, the youth doesn't have the opportunity to say, "I won't." Nor does the parent raise a question or announce he or she will do these things for the youth. The parent just does them as a matter of course, and the youth accepts the parent's services without the slightest doubts or stir of feelings.

Isn't it amazing that any young man or woman feeling mature enough to enter college would not choose to prove himself more self-reliant and responsible?

Observe Maturity
I wish all my readers would, during the next several weeks, observe in the homes of their friends and neighbors, and at bus and railroad stations, how much evidence they find that the young man or woman about to enter college is as mature as his age in years would lead one to expect.

I wish, moreover, that any prospective college student might be too self-respecting to allow his parents to do anything for him, in his getting off to college, which he easily could, and certainly should, do for himself.

Just see what responsibility faces this youth, responsibility for handling money, responsibility for self-management of a program of study and recreation, responsibility for his own conduct.

Good preparation for entering college begins when the baby enters the crib. It so continues that this child will not need to take his crib along with him to college.

HERMIT LIFE

Wonder how a hermit grave looks like in his lonely cave? When the moon is on the lake, How much pleasure can he take From a splendor so serene, Having none to share the scene? Half the joy of beauty lies Shining in another's eyes.

When a hermit sits to read, Does he never feel the need Of another in a chair? Who the joy of books would share? Can the printed page suffice? Does he never read it twice—Once for self, there and then, For another, read again?

What's the worth of all we own If it's kept for self alone? Pictures beautiful may be, But if stored where none can see, Though a fortune they have cost, All the charm of them is lost. Beauty, how do hermits bear it, Having no one near to share it? (Copyright, 1946, Edgar A. Guest)

FAT REMOVERS

Pat is good for cooking. It is good for eating, too. It is not good to carry too much of it around under the skin.

A person who is too fat is not in good condition. Obesity is disabling and dangerous. Usually obesity is caused by eating more food than is needed.

The excess nourishment is stored up in the body in the form of fat. In order to reduce the excess fat it is necessary to regulate the amount of nourishment taken.

This does not mean starvation either. The body needs a certain amount of the different kinds of food in order to keep healthy.

To get rid of excess fat, drugs and baths and exercise and gadgets are usually either dangerous or useless.

Obesity should have medical care the same as other dangerous diseases.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

Savings bank deposits have increased 16 billion dollars in a year and the lines of customers for new cars are increasing. . . It is now obvious that things are tough all over.

According to the prophets we should be in the midst of a post-war slump now rather than working on second-round wage increases.

But when we have to contend with things like increased savings it appears that despite all efforts to stamp it out, thrift seems to be setting in again.

This is a type of reaction we are at our wits ends to defeat.

If reactionaries insist on providing work and other reactionaries insist on saving their wages it will be increasingly difficult to turn this into the fine liberal country it should be.

One of our lady politicians has a germ of a thought which might do it. . . She says a political party should always look forward.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

On the occasion of his recent twenty-sixth birthday, Bernard M. Baruch was host and guest at many parties.

There were gifts and speeches, and all the honors due this great man were given to him.

In one of his addresses of thanks, he told his audience that he counted his years by the friendships he had made.

Bernard Baruch has thousands of friends, of course.

So has any great man or great woman.

But what are "friends"? What is "friendship"?

It always makes me smile when someone tells me about his many friends.

There is a lawyer I know who is a most popular fellow.

He can fish and hunt and drink with the best of them.

He knows more jokes than anybody I have ever known.

He is the epitome of what you call a "good fellow."

Every time I talk to him he tells me about this friend or that one.

I talked to a couple of his friends.

"Oh yes, he's a swell fellow," was the general comment.

But that was never the end of the sentence.

There was always the but. . . "but I wouldn't trust him with any of my money."

"but I'm sorry for his poor wife."

"but he'll drink himself to death."

"but he'll be a bum some day."

This fellow is high up in politics. He can do lots of things for lots of people. He can fix tickets for speeding. He can get you jobs in the city or county administration. He can get you theatre tickets or tickets for the world series.

Is that friendship?

There is a big difference between friends and acquaintances.

A hanger-on is not necessarily a friend.

The fellow who wants a favor is not a friend.

The woman who wants your social influence is not a friend.

Friendship asks for nothing, gives anything.

Friendship does not look into your pocketbook, does not look you up in the Social Register or in Who's Who.

As a newspaperman I am in a position to do little favors for people.

So I too have lots of "friends."

The other evening I counted all my friends (without the quotation mark) on my fingers.

All I needed were my thumb, my index finger and my middle finger.

And how proud I am of those three!

The World and the Mud Puddles

BROWDER IS BACK

Earl Browder back from Moscow with credentials as official book agent in the United States for Soviet literature, hastens to inform us that getting tough with Russia is "the most mischievous thing in international relations". This, of course, represents the sentiments of all the Communists and "fellow travelers" in this country who put Russian interests ahead of American interests.

His plain implication is that we should keep on letting Russia have everything she wants, regardless of right or wrong, and that opposition to Stalin, Gromyko or Molotov is a threat against peace.

It is true that the idea of "getting tough" came to our national administration rather belatedly, and that it represents a drastic departure from our former attitude. As a matter of fact, the prodigal-handed Mr. Roosevelt gave Mr. Stalin about everything he asked for at Tehran and Yalta.

Having been used to asking and receiving, Mr. Stalin and his aides are hard put now to think of further demands and are proceeding on an evident policy of mere obstructionism while they figure out some new ploys.

So far as the practical effects of the "tough" policy are concerned, it does not seem to have made a great deal of difference except that occasionally we refuse or compromise. The city of Browderites has been that we ought to "understand" Russia. Maybe the "getting tough" system means that we at last are beginning this understanding—and incidentally getting wise to ourselves.

Under the price control law these commodities remain free of ceilings unless the board rules that they should be recontrolled.

A spokesman for the board revealed that the group will act only if Price Administrator Porter asks for restoration of controls. In such event the board probably will hold public hearings on the question and listen to arguments in favor of continued decontrol.

Porter recently stated that OPA would watch the prices of those commodities and if it noted any "unreasonable" price rise would request the reimposition of ceilings.

He said that already there had been some slight jump in fuel oil prices, but that other petroleum prices were remaining stabilized at their present levels.

As for tobacco, tobacco products, poultry and eggs, the OPA chief reported that to date there had been no substantial gain in prices that would justify recontrol of these commodities.

Unless there is a change in present price and supply conditions, there is little chance that any of these commodities will go back under ceilings.

While Washington worries about what the Soviet "master plan" may be, nothing in current circulation is more suggestive of peace than the "Soviet Information Bulletin."

Protected Grade Crossings Have Many Accidents

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—America apparently doesn't believe in signs, because 37 per cent of the 1945 motor vehicle grade crossing accidents were at crossings protected by gates, lights, bells or watchmen.

This fact is contained in "Accident Facts," the statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council.

Deaths from motor vehicle grade crossing accidents totaled 1,739 in 1945, an increase of 4 per cent over 1944.

The trains were traveling less than 30 miles an hour or standing still in 53 per cent of the accidents, according to the yearbook.

Instructor Passes New Safety Course

Mrs. Anne Castele, of Neshannock avenue, has just returned from Camp Minnehaha, Minnehaha Springs, W. Va., where she attended the Red Cross National Aquatic school and undertook a 10-day training course based on the revised First Aid and Accident Prevention manuals of the Red Cross.

Since the ending of the war, the First Aid text book has been revised with some changes in the technique in caring for fractures, shock, burns before the arrival of the doctor. These methods will be stressed in the new accident prevention and first aid courses which are being promoted by the local chapter of the Red Cross.

Accident prevention is receiving more and more attention in industry, schools, and the home, with President Truman asking a Red Cross representative to sit in his safety council to help plan ways of decreasing the high accident-death toll.

At the conclusion of the course, Mrs. Castele received a reappointment as first aid instructor and an appointment as an accident prevention instructor.

Own One With Pride, Drive With Satisfaction

There's a natural pride of ownership when you have a Federal truck. There's a real satisfaction when you drive one. A satisfaction that comes from a knowledge that you are getting more miles for your money, more service per mile, for you are getting built in quality.

You'll never be really satisfied until you drive a Federal. And a Kingham trailer adds to your satisfaction.

Milk Control Group Making Study Of Costs

Extensive Field Studies Un- dertaken To Determine Future Prices For Farmers

HARRISBURG, Sept. 4.—(INS)—The State Milk Control commission has undertaken a thorough study of milk production costs in Pennsylvania to be used as a basis for determining future minimum prices for farmers.

Chairman H. N. Cobb reported that extensive field surveys were being made by agriculture students of the Pennsylvania State college. Basic information should be compiled by mid-September and a complete analysis of cost factors released by the first of the year, he added.

Milk production data will include increased costs of feed, labor and equipment, Cobb explained.

"The purpose of the study is to establish the cost of producing milk in Pennsylvania," Cobb said. "From the survey we can get an idea of what the minimum prices should be."

The analysis will be considered along with testimony taken at future milk price hearings, he added.

Crop Income Decline

A 10 per cent decline in crop incomes during the first third of 1946 compared with the same period of last year has been announced by the State Agriculture department. Receipts between January and April this year amounted to $165,256,000 while those of the same period of 1945 were $182,908,000, it was reported.

The loss was chiefly due to a drop in marketing of livestock, the department reported.

The State Agriculture department has reported that one-tenth of the ice cream manufactured in the United States last year came from Pennsylvania plants.

The Keystone state led the country in production of the ice cream with an output of 52,078,000 gallons, the department reported. An additional 6,154,000 gallons of Sherbet was manufactured, it was added.

Other dairy products yields for 1945 included: butter, 12,041,000 pounds; cheese, 12,856,000; condensed and evaporated milk, 117,407,000 pounds.

Ice cream production was up about 75 per cent while the output of sherbets rose 32 per cent over 1944 figures, the department reported. Slight increases were noted for all other dairy products.

Pests Eradicated
State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst has reported complete success in eradicating gypsy caterpillars in infested areas of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties.

More than 17 tons of D. D. T. were sprayed over a 600 square mile area to destroy the pests, he said.

"Not a single live gypsy moth caterpillar has been found in the 54,200 acres of forests, farms and towns treated this year, the 5,000 acres sprayed in 1945 or the 26-acre initial D. D. T. experimental plot treated in 1944," Horst stated.

He said only 84 of the insects were trapped in an adjacent two million acre area.

Leave For Visit To Captain Chip

Captain Chip will drive his mother and brother to Nashville where they will visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Mary Louise Frazier. George Chip, Jr., intends to enter Vanderbilt university, his father, George Chip, former middleweight champion stated today.

BRITISH-GREEK ROYAL WEDDING RUMORS REVIVED

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The Communist "Daily Worker" revived reports today of an imminent marriage linking the British and Greek royal families.

The publication said: "There is talk of a possible marriage which is being planned between Elizabeth (heiress presumptive to the British throne) and one of the Glucksburg family by the name of King George II of Greece."

"Apart from George himself, other eligible males in the Glucksburg family are Princes Paul and Philip."

The Greek monarch has been recalled to the throne as a result of Sunday's plebiscite.

SWEDISH GROUP OFF TO MOSCOW IN TRADE PARLEY

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 5.—(INS)—A second contingent of Swedish government officials leave for Moscow today to negotiate a bilateral trade pact with the Soviets. The first group left last night.

Semi-official sources said there was nothing in the proposed agreement which would preclude multilateral agreements between Sweden and other nations later.

The Swedish government, replying recently to a United States note condemning the projected Russo-Swedish pact, described itself as ready to formulate multilateral arrangements if they are truly international and not discriminatory.

COMBAT BLAMED IN CRIME RISE AMONG VETERANS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Instincts of aggression released in combat were blamed today as causing crimes of violence in civilian life involving veterans.

Dr. Gregory Zilboorg, noted New York psychiatrist, told the American Psychological Association conference that "this aggressive spirit" affects civilians as well as soldiers and "continues to operate long after the war is over."

He suggested sports and diversions such as serious drama to counteract this aggressive spirit.

Fires Are Feared In National Forest

WARREN, Pa., Sept. 5.—With a dearth of rainfall, the woodlands have become as dry as tinder and all streams, including the river and creeks have fallen to a new low. Officials of the Allegheny National Forest and the local office of the Department of Forest and Waters are on the alert for forest fires.

One blaze, covering 50 acres was burned over during the past few days and many volunteers were called upon to aid in the fight. Fire towers are now staffed and the crews have been put on the alert, ready to answer calls at any hour.

Particular attention is being given to the protection of young plantations along the Allegheny National Forest, as these are coming along in good shape. Appeals have been posted asking all to use care with fire in the woods.

Majorettes Are Preparing For Game On Friday

Twelve young ladies, all dressed up in white gabardine skirts and red band jackets, will go through their high-stepping formations at the first football game of the season Friday night, but eight of them won't have the usual majorette's boots; they'll wear plain ordinary, run-of-the-mine saddle oxfords. And furthermore, they'll do just as good a job.

Their boots are ordered but have not yet arrived, the girls explain. Their mothers could make their skirts, but when it came to footgear, that was a different matter. Their routines are their own, worked out with able leadership and always showing originality. For the Erie East game Friday evening, they have worked out a routine for "No. No. Nanette".

The band this year is not last year's band, but that is only to be expected. Graduating classes always remove many of the outstanding players, and the June graduation was especially hard on the organization. Now, the school has a fresh group of musicians who will be expected to keep up the tradition of a fine Ne-Ca-Hi band.

This year's majorettes are Donna Smith, Dolores Galalucia, Eleanor Thomas, Christina DiThomas, Dorothy Barge, and Harriett Birk, all last-year girls; Barbara Marquis, Ann Monica, Olivia Palumbo, Eleanor Druschel, Shirley Coryea, Camella DiLorenzo and an alternate, Elaine Ray.

FREE CONVENTION EXTENDED TO GAR BY PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—An invitation to the Grand Army of the Republic to hold an "all expenses paid" convention in Philadelphia next year went out today. The Philadelphia Boosters Association wired the invitation to Hiram R. Gale, GAR commander-in-chief.

Eleven Civil War veterans met in this year's convention in Indianapolis.

Marriages in the first three months this year were nearly 50 per cent above the 1945 period.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

Sept. 3, 1946

Editor, New Castle News, New Castle, Pa., Dear Editor:

AVC membership, like an average New Castle citizen, cannot help but question the inequality practiced by our city and county officials toward various groups. Members of AVC are curious to determine why Johnson Bronze Employees Association is permitted the use of city streets and sidewalks while our organization was denied a request to place booths on the sidewalks to promote a public service in encouraging registration of World War II veterans? AVC is on record to protect the rights of all civic groups in exercising their civil liberties. Can we hear a voice of protest against the local governmental agencies denying AVC freedoms enjoyed by other groups and organizations?

Surely, John Q. Public of New Castle and Lawrence County is hardly in accord with those discriminating against World War II Veterans' organization—our own American Veterans Committee—New Castle Chapter No. 1. We quote Attorney General James H. Duff in connection with our endeavor: "I am unreservedly and enthusiastically in favor of your program. After all, there is no group more important to the future as well as the present, than the veteran. Irrespective of what party they register with, it is most important that they do register and vote. Unless they do take part in the active political life of America, they may lose the benefits of all the sacrifices they made during the war."

We quote Governor Edward Martin on the same subject: "I think you are entering into a magnificent program. I have hoped that the veterans of World War II would take part in government."

Quotations from above letters notwithstanding; what consideration can the New Castle Chapter, AVC expect in the way of equality from the citizens of New Castle, Pennsylvania?

Respectfully yours, ANDREW METRICK, Jr., Chairman, New Castle Chapter, American Veterans Committee

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5—(INS)—Scoff if you will about superstitions surrounding black cats, but Thelma Reid today believes everything she ever heard about the traditional ill-luck omen.
Miss Reid, a civilian driver for the navy transportation department, was sitting in the office when it walked a black kitten.

Miss Reid snatched up the kitten to take it outside the building. She stepped in a hole in the pavement. Today she is wearing casts for a broken arm and dislocated shoulder and bandages for a sprained ankle and assorted abrasions and contusions.
The kitten, meantime, has disappeared.

Hines Returning To Discuss Bases In Panama Area

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The state department announced today that Gen. Frank T. Hines, ambassador to Panama, is returning at once to Washington to discuss the question of American bases in Panama.

The Panamanian government through its legislature recently objected to retention of several of the 83 bases built on Panama territory for defense of the canal during the war. Almost all the bases have been returned to Panamanian jurisdiction but some difficulties have been encountered on the question of returning the remaining few.

Originally the state department promised to issue a formal statement on the subject some time today. But, on being informed by Hines that he wished to come to Washington for consultation, the department decided to withhold the statement until his return.

Motor Vehicle Deaths Lead In Accident Toll

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—A deposited champ again wears the winner's crown on a bloody head!

Motor vehicle deaths are back in first place in the nation's grim accident race, after two years of wartime driving restrictions had given the title of No. 1 killer to falls.

This fact is revealed in the 1946 edition of "Accident Facts," the statistical yearbook published by the National Safety Council.

The 1945 death toll from traffic mishaps was 28,600, while deaths from falls totaled 27,800.

Falls and motor vehicle accidents accounted for more than half of the 96,000 all-accident death toll in 1945. Burns, the third place killer, ran third with 9,950 victims.

Accident costs for the year were listed in the yearbook at $5,100,000,000.

Jesus and Sincerity of Speech

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Peter's denial of Christ

"Thou shalt not bear false witness."—Exodus 20:16.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 8 is Exodus 20:16, 23:1, Psalm 15:1-5; Proverbs 26:18-28; Matt. 5:33-37; 22:16-22; 26:69-75; Acts 4:13-21, 23, the Memory verse being Exodus 20:16, "Thou shalt not bear false witness.")

"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." And again, "Thou shalt not raise a false report; put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness."

These two quotations from Exodus set the theme for today's lesson, and we will see what Jesus had to say about it. What is it that makes people most angry? What is the usual cause of childish quarrels when these small people will not talk to each other? Isn't it that someone bore false witness—slandered them behind their backs, said mean things about them?

Insincerity, as we pronounce the word, does not sound like a very heinous sin, but think of the woe it has brought the world. Almost every tyrant who has brought death and terror to millions has posed as a benefactor, bringing blessings in his wake, when he was really an unmitigated evil, bent only on working out his own dreadful, selfish ends.

"Lord, who shall abide in Thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in Thy holy hill?" asks the Psalmist. "He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart. He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbor. In whose eyes a vile person is condemned; but he honoreth them that fear the Lord. He that sweareth to his own heart, and changeth not. He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be removed."

Deceiver Is Like Man
In Proverbs we read these strong words, "As a mad man who casteth firebrands, arrows, and death, so is the man that deceiveth his neighbor. . . . Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out; so where there is no talebearer, the strife ceaseth. Words, words—what a power lies in them, for good or ill. The dreadful part of it is this, words once spoken can never be recalled. We may be oh, so sorry for what we have said, but they are said and nothing can change that. Watch your lips that they say only that which is good about thy neighbor. Then there is no remorse. Those who claim to be followers of Jesus surely should be most careful to speak as He would have us, with truth and sincerity, never with scorn, hatred and malice.

Jesus reproached those who took God's name in vain, telling them that they should not excuse even mild profanity, but should refrain entirely from swearing. And he spoke of the men who swore hypocritically by the temple, or by the altar, thinking that was nothing, but considered an oath binding if it was sworn by the gold on the altar in the temple. These oaths were one and the same, He said, and blasphemous.

One of the saddest stories in the New Testament is the one of Peter's denial of Christ. It came after he had boasted strongly that no matter what happened to his Lord, he would stand by Him. Jesus' judges, the priests, had found Him guilty of blasphemy, and had spat on Him and struck Him. Then a maid saw Peter sitting with others around a fire in the great hall, and she said, "Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee," but he denied it, saying, "I know not what thou sayest. Going out to the porch, another maid saw him and said, 'This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.' Again he denied it, and this time with an oath.

Denies Jesus with Curses
After a while, a third person said to Peter, "Surely thou also art one of them; for thy speech betrayeth thee." Then Peter began to curse and swear, saying, "I know not the man." And immediately the cock crew, and Peter remembered what Jesus had said the night before that he would deny Him thrice and "he went out and wept bitterly."

Possibly a year or so later Peter and John healed a lame man in the name of Jesus, the risen Christ. Many people saw the miracle and the priests arrested and put them in prison until the next day, when they were brought before the Sanhedrin, the same body that had condemned their Master. These judges saw that the men were not cultivated persons, but were rough looking and uneducated, so they evidently thought if they forbade them to heal any more or to preach, they would be intimidated and cease.

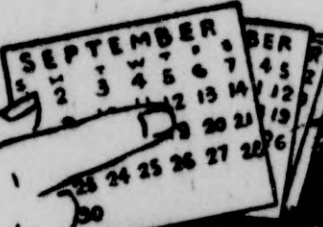

"But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard."

So when they had further threatened them they let them go, because they didn't dare punish them as the people were with them and had seen the miracle, and glorified God.

"And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them." Peter had learned his lesson. He was no longer afraid. Thereafter he spoke the truth no matter what it cost him. (distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Announcing

PRIORITY RIGHTS FOR DISABLED VETERANS*

on the purchase of specially equipped
New Oldsmobiles

America's disabled war veterans can get the specially equipped cars they need so badly, without undue delay.

Oldsmobile offers a Priority Purchase Plan, which entitles any qualified veteran* to priority rights on the delivery of his specially equipped Oldsmobile. By "specially equipped" we mean equipped with Hydra-Matic Drive and "Valiant" driving controls. This combination makes it possible for the great majority of veterans to drive in spite of their disabilities.

"Valiant" driving controls were developed in cooperation with Army and Navy Hospitals. They have been widely used in rehabilitation programs in all parts of the country, in teaching handicapped veterans to drive.

As a result, many disabled veterans have already learned to operate cars with "Valiant" controls. Many more are learning every day. And it is to help provide these war heroes with the transportation they need that Oldsmobile announces its special Priority Delivery Plan.

We will be glad to furnish complete information about "Valiant" driving controls, and accept new-car orders from qualified* veterans.

WITH

AND
"VALIANT" DRIVING
CONTROLS

Hydra-Matic Drive in itself eliminates the clutch pedal and provides automatic gear shifting in the forward speeds. This greatly simplifies the problem of adapting a Hydra-Matic Drive car for use by a handicapped person. Only a few additional controls are required—such as a hand-operated throttle and brake, or a left-foot accelerator and brake pedal—depending on the needs of each individual case.

*Any disabled veteran of the U. S. armed services may qualify if he received injuries during the war that make it impossible for him to drive a car with conventional driving controls.

Urges U.S. Retain Atomic Bomb Secret

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. — Sen. Hatch (D) N. M., urged today that the nation "keep its powder dry" by retaining the atomic bomb secret until an "absolutely safe" plan of world control is adopted.

At the same time the senator, one of President Truman's observers at the Bikini atomic tests, predicted in an interview that United States would be willing to scrap the veto power in United Nations if Russia would do so.

That, he said, would clear away one of the major obstacles in the way of outlawing war.

"Keep Your Powder Dry"

In urging retention of the atomic bomb secrets until an aggressor-proof control is worked out, the internationalist senator paraphrased Oliver Cromwell's "put your trust in God—but mind to keep your powder dry." Hatch said:

"I put my trust in peaceful procedures. But in the meantime the cold realities of the world in which we live compel my admonition to be as Cromwell's—we must 'mind to keep our powder dry.'"

Hatch, ardent supporter of UN, said he strongly favors in general the Bernard Baruch plan for world atomic control. But he added:

"I want to take a look at the safeguards. No one seems to have offered anything very specific about just what they would be."

"I want to make sure they are real safeguards before I vote to turn atomic secrets over to the world organization."

Calling for retaining atomic secrets until war is outlawed completely and safely, Hatch said:

"Until the United Nations is strong enough to prevent war, we must not sabotage or undermine our strength in any way."

"Whatever secret weapons we now possess we must retain until we can with absolute safety turn them over to the international organization."

"Until all nations are willing to cooperate honestly and to the fullest extent to prevent war, we must keep our nation at full strength."

Scouters Plan Gathering For September 12

Scouters of the Lawrence county council will gather at the Boy Scout camp Thursday, September 12, at 6:15 p. m. to enjoy a corn and wiener roast and discuss plans for the fall and winter activities.

Thomas L. Paden, chairman of the camping activities committee, and Ernest D. Hawk, commissioner, will act as co-chairmen for the event, it was announced.

VOLANT MOTHERS' CLUB FAMILY NIGHT

Clyde E. Stevens Ends Marine Duty

Clyde E. Stevens, Jr., a member of the U. S. Marine Corps for the past three years, has been discharged from active duty and has returned to civilian life.

Stevens joined the service in April, 1943 and was released in August of this year, at the Great Lakes, Illinois training center. His last year of service was spent in China. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stevens, Sr., of 138 East Garfield avenue, with whom he will reside. He will return to the Shenango Pottery company, with whom he was affiliated before entering the service.

SHE DOESN'T GO FOR MODERN LASS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—At 96, Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips of Pittsburgh doesn't have much time for modern girls.

Mrs. Phillips, who remembers the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, said the girls today think too much of food and dress.

Allegheny County Is Given Something For Nothing, Finally

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—For the first time since he has been Allegheny county purchasing agent, Michael N. Donohue got something for nothing.

It was two bids to clean the 52 inch silk American flag that flies over the juvenile detention home. Asked for bids on the cleaning, five answered—three wanted from $1 to $3 and the others were for free.

He's going to toss a coin to see who'll get the job.

Hide-And-Seek Fatal To Child

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Four-year-old Jimmy Carney, of Philadelphia, wasn't very careful about where he played a game of hide-and-seek with his dog.

As a result, the youngster is dead today.

Jimmy hid in a cardboard packing box in the middle of the street. Suddenly a truck bore down—and the boy was crushed beneath its wheels.

State Revenues Are Exceeding Estimates

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The state budget bureau reported today that revenues for the first 14 months of the 1945-47 biennium had exceeded estimates by $9,257,897.

Budget Secretary Edward B. Logan said it was an indication that the commonwealth was in a "very healthy financial condition."

Total collections through July 31 amounted to $322,322,913 compared with an anticipated intake of $313,065,016, according to Logan.

He said $226,423,322 was poured into the general fund by a levy of more than two dozen taxes, hundreds of license fees and institutional collections.

Motor License Fund
The remaining $95,899,591 was earmarked for the motor license fund mainly through a four-cent tax on gasoline and motor vehicle license fees, he added. Motor license funds have been frozen by law for use in road building and maintenance.

The state's uncommitted surplus amounted to $7,571,493, Logan reported. Other surplus funds totaling $182,355,240 have been earmarked in "continuing appropriations" for postwar construction projects, he added.

Logan refused to predict what the excess revenues would total by the end of the biennium.

Business and industrial earnings—tapped for the biggest tax contributions—appeared to be maintaining a high level this year, which could preclude a slump in the state's largest tax pool, he asserted.

Some Collections Drop
Collections from three of these sources had dropped slightly below estimates, Logan said, but were expected to gain by the first of the year when payments fall due.

Domestic capital stock tax payments totaled $23,564,000, a drop of $963,000 from estimates, while the levy on foreign capital stock yielded $9,419,000, about $390,000 under the anticipated sum, according to Logan.

The regular eight-mill gross receipts tax netted the state $4,262,238 during the period compared with an anticipated intake of $4,302,131 while returns from the six-mill emergency levy on gross receipts came to $2,986,940 as against an expected $3,052,053, he added.

Income from the emergency liquor tax had fallen short but was expected to reach or surpass estimates by May 31, 1947, end of the fiscal year. The liquor levy met $15,803,470 of an anticipated $16,539,236.

Amounts brought to the treasury by the emergency cigarette and corporate net income taxes had slightly exceeded estimates, Logan added.

Striking Truck Drivers In N. Y. Postpone Parley

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Striking truck drivers who are tightening a clamp on New York's industrial arteries closed the door today on an early resumption of negotiations with employers.

Local 807 of the AFL teamsters and chauffeurs union, which had arranged a meeting for this afternoon to vote on Mayor William O'Dwyer's compromise wage formula, voted to postpone the meeting until next Sunday.

Spokesman for the 15,000 New York strikers said they ordered the postponement to provide additional time to gain use of an armory and to distribute pamphlets explaining why the mayor's proposals should be endorsed.

An insurgent group announced, however, that they would make use of the additional time to arouse sentiment against the O'Dwyer proposals which they denounced as inadequate.

The plan has been approved by owners of 2000 trucks but the two principal employers' associations have rejected it as too generous to the strikers.

The strike, meanwhile, was extended by 10,000 drivers in northern New Jersey who quit their jobs in sympathy with their fellow unionists in New York.

Deliveries of canned goods and groceries from major terminals were at a standstill. The two largest biscuit companies in the metropolitan area halted all distribution and the milk supply faced a sharp curtailment.

Foresee Shortage Of Industrial Coal

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—A possible shortage of coal for industrial fuel was foreseen today by the state mines department as a result of a 4,200,000-ton slump in bituminous production compared with last year.

The decline, attributed to work stoppages coupled with a shortage of railroad cars, may leave industries short of supplies this winter, according to Secretary Richard Maize.

"Unless the slack can be taken up by importation of bituminous coal from southern West Virginia, industries may lack supplies," Maize stated. "There appears to be no shortage of transportation facilities in West Virginia."

Although sufficient coal was expected to be available for household use, consumers were urged to make their purchases before winter in order to relieve overtaxed transportation facilities.

Anthracite production totaling 35,400,000 tons for the first seven months of 1946 topped the output for the same period last year by 3,248,000 tons, Maize said. Bituminous yields through July this year amounted to 63,500,000 tons, he added.

Artificial breeding service for Holstein, Guernsey and Ayrshire dairy cattle is provided in nearly every agricultural county of New York State.

Holding Man In Jewelry Thefts

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Frederick D. Pirain, 34, of Pittsburgh, today was held by police after being arrested for stealing $2,000 worth of jewelry from a Pittsburgh store where he was a temporary employee.

City detectives said they found valuables worth $2,500 in Pirain's room when they arrested him. He denied the theft at first saying the jewelry was his and he was going into business for himself. He later admitted stealing some of the valuables, police said.

Officials at the store said they would not press charges if all of the jewelry was returned. Police said they were holding Pirain pending a court order to open a safe deposit box, records of which were found in his room.

CATCH FOUR MORE IN SUGAR RACKETS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Four more men caught in the OPA drive to curb black market sugar operations in western Pennsylvania today were under $1,000 bond each for a hearing before the United States commissioner.

W. J. Haas, grocer, of Pittsburgh; Frank Gutierrez, grocery clerk, of Beaver Falls; Norbert J. Heinz, Avalon, and Louis M. Vincour, president of the Pittsburgh Milk company, posted bonds yesterday.

See Shortage Of Milk By Fall

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—A possible shortage of milk in the fall was scouted today by Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst.

Resumption of schools, lunch programs and renewed demands by housewives have boosted demands, he said. Farmers were urged by Horst to "make every reasonable effort to increase production in the next four months."

He blamed the threatened shortage on "price and feed uncertainties" coupled with staggering wartime blows "to the dairy industries future when the butcher's block drained heavily on heifer replacements" to dairy herds.

Millions of pounds of milk and cream would be shipped into Pennsylvania to help alleviate the expected shortage, he asserted.

The Mongols introduced firearms into Europe in the 13th century.

PARDONS BOARD TO HEAR APPEALS

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The state pardons board announced today that a three-day meeting would open at the state capital September 11 to receive 153 clemency appeals.

The only capital case listed was that of Corrine Sykes, 21-year-old Philadelphia Negro housemaid, convicted of slaying her employer, Mrs. Freda Wodlinger, December 7, 1944. The woman, originally scheduled to die April 29 for the butcher knife slaying, has been granted three reprieves by Gov. Edward Martin.

NAVAL SQUADRON ARRIVES IN ATHENS

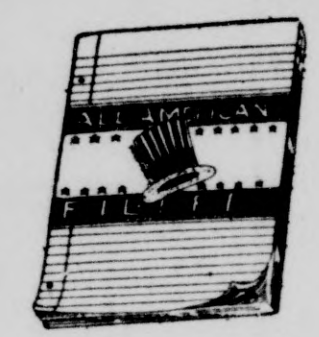

ATHENS, Sept. 5.—(INS)—A United States naval squadron led by the Aircraft Carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived in Athens harbor today. The United States embassy said the four-day visit is to "demonstrate the United States friendly support of Greece."

The squadron entered Greek waters after a visit to Naples. There are 197 cities over 50,000 population in the United States.

New Moves To Aid Veteran's Housing In New Castle Area

At least two government agencies, other than the National Housing Agency, will enforce compliance with the NHA program to provide materials for housing in the New Castle area.

This was announced today by R. B. Hutton, NHA expediter for the locality. The new compliance measures are effective September 10.

Acting under a delegation of authority by Wilson W. Wyatt, NHA national expediter, and using its own powers under the Second War Powers Act, the Civilian Production Administration will see that priorities for housing materials are not misused and that the vast amount of materials now being set aside for housing are not diverted into non-residential construction.

"We intend getting rough with black-marketeers," Hutton said. "And we are determined to see scarce materials go into housing, where it belongs, rather than non-residential construction, which can be put off for a while."

At the same time, the Office of Price Administration, through its rent offices, will enforce maximum price limitations as they apply to homes rented or bought by veterans.

Several Courses of Action
OPA may take several courses of action to compensate defrauded veteran-home buyers and to punish those who violate ceiling and veterans' preference regulations, Hutton said. Over-ceiling charges can be settled by compliance conferences in the OPA office; civil action may be taken in the courts; the U. S. attorney may be asked to take criminal action in federal courts; or builders may be denied further authorization to build and priorities assistance.

"Mr. Wyatt has determined to take 'tough' action to see that veterans get a fair break," Hutton asserted, "and I believe compliance measures will be just as tough as need be."

Veterans Can Take Action

He explained that veterans who are overcharged for their homes may bring action in court anytime within a year after buying a house to recover the amount of the overcharge and reasonable attorney's fees and costs. Under this procedure, the veteran need not jeopardize his chances of obtaining the home.

DRY CLEANING

It is a good idea to send the children's stuffed toys to the dry-cleaners occasionally. During play they pick up quantities of dirt and dust which may not be noticeable.

ALERTNESS GOVERNS WORK IN BREEDING

Owners of cattle being bred artificially must know when the breeding time arrives and not delay in calling the technician.

Breeding too soon or too late can be avoided, and in many instances only if the herd owner or manager is alerted to breeding characteristics. Cows observed in breeding condition in late afternoon or early evening should be bred before 2 o'clock the following day.

Some dairy farmers hold their cows too long before calling the inseminator. Others make premature calls. In both cases the cows are bred at wrong times because the technician was given incorrect information.

When the heat period is noticed from 5:00 a. m. to 10 a. m., the breeding should be on the same day, or if noticed between 3:00 p. m. and 9:00 p. m., then early the following day.

Alertness on the part of the farmer, and passing on by him to the inseminator of exact information results in more cows being settled on the first service.

An interesting way to perk up your fish is to poach fish fillets or slices in a seasoned mixture of white table wine and consommé. Wine cuts the natural oiliness of the fish and makes for delicious flavor.

KROGER was hatched as one small store in Cincinnati in 1892.

It grew into 2,600 stores in 18 states because B. H. Kroger, the founder, was an unusually good, economical storekeeper, and he saw that with many stores he could buy and sell things for less money than with one little store.

In America, any little store can become a big store or a group of stores, if it finds ways to give folks better things for less money.

School Lunch Prices Are Somewhat Higher

If your junior and senior high school sons and daughters ask for a raise in their allowance to cover the increase in their cost of living, you needn't think that they are copying ideas from the big time unions—they're really needing more money to pay for their school lunches this year.

Food which sold at cost or less than cost last year has to sell for more this year so that the food may be obtained in the first place, and so that the crew of 25 cooks may be paid to cook it. Under the direction of dietitian Mrs. Rachel Taylor, only the best quality of food is selected for these school menus.

Milk is being sold at cost, which is one cent more than last year, and a two cent raise brings the price of soup, hot vegetable dishes, salad, custard, and fruit up to seven cents just a little above cost.

Potato chips, ice cream bars, and rolls will still be sold at five cents, but pie, cake and sandwiches which last year were sold far below cost will sell at ten cents now. The price of meat and fish will also be ten cents.

With these new prices, the twenty cents a day lunch, which used to be about average except for some heavy eaters who squandered thirty-five and forty cents, won't always be sufficient this term. You see, the kids really meant it when they said they needed more money.

U. S. Ambassador Continues Effort For China Peace

Hope To Bring Reds, Nationalists
Into Line For Coalition Government

NANKING, Sept. 5.—(INS)—U. S. Ambassador Stuart continued his efforts today to bring Chinese Nationalists and Communists together in order to lay a foundation for re-organization of the Chinese government along coalition lines.

Stuart said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had given assurances that an overall cease-fire order would be issued to Nationalist troops should a similar agreement be made by the Communists.

The U. S. ambassador declared that the next step is up to chief Communist negotiator Chou En-lai, who has not attempted to confer with Stuart following a two-hour conference last night with Gen. George C. Marshall. It was reported the conference failed to re-assure Chou that the Chinese government intends to issue a cease-fire order.

Meantime, government demands that the Communists withdraw from five areas along the vital communications network in northeast China and Manchuria were being settled on the battlefield.

Nationalist troops, which wrested Chengteh from Communist control, are now poised for a drive into Kalgan, leading Communist base in North China.

Fate of Tatum, important Shansi province rail center under a month-long siege by Communist forces, remained clouded. Although independent military observers insisted the city has fallen, Nationalists claim they are still in possession. Red headquarters at Yenan has not officially announced its capture.

Army Provides Good Opportunity

Most Of Army Pay Is Clear Savings, Sgt. Walsh, Local Recruiter, Points Out

Young men qualified for enlistment in the regular army will find an even greater opportunity than ever before to save money, it is pointed out by Master Sgt. Charles P. Walsh, local army recruiting officer, because of the substantial increases in monthly pay granted by the Congress of the United States.

With good food, clothing and housing provided, plus free medical and dental care, low-cost insurance and other advantages, a big share of army pay is "clear savings," Sgt. Walsh states.

In addition, thorough training in valuable skills and trades, sound physical development, travel, recreation and adventure are available to the enlistee. And if he chooses to make the army his career, he'll have the benefit of the most liberal retirement plan on earth—up to $185.63 monthly for life, in the grade of master or first sergeant, after 30 years service.

Thus, more than ever an army job is a good job.

Miss Vera Barker, of 929 Adams street, has been granted a year's leave of absence from her teaching duties at Shenango high school, to attend Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y., where she will take religious training and at the same time, teach in the Houghton public schools.

Miss Barker, who is the daughter of Mrs. Carrie Barker, of Adams street, plans to use her Biblical training in connection with her school-work.

Members of the Wesleyan Methodist church Sunday school on Lyndal street, of which Miss Barker is a member, recently tendered a surprise farewell shower in honor of their departing member.

Plans are in progress for the annual corn roast of the Lawrence County chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, President J. Fred Clarke said today. The corn roast will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pearsall near Neshannock Falls Thursday night, September 12, at 6:30 o'clock.

Probing Wreck In Which Woman Preferred To Die

SEATTLE, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Deputy sheriffs launched an investigation today into the cause of an automobile wreck that took the life of a Seattle man and his wife who spurned rescue in favor of death with her husband.

Four men were burned in rescue attempts.

The dead were tentatively identified as William C. Payton, 53, of Seattle, and his 34-year-old wife.

The couple's car crashed through a fence onto the Boeing field airport, rolled over several times and burst into flames. Witnesses said both occupants seemed to be alive when the car came to rest on its side, but they were pinned in the wreckage.

Seattle Patrolman Fred W. Deming and three jail trustees in his charge tried to rescue the couple.

Deming said the woman clung to the man's body. They tried to force her out and almost succeeded, but as they tried to free her arm the gasoline tank of the car exploded, drenching them in burning liquid. Deming and the trustees were treated for second degree burns.

Old New York World Fair Site To Be U.N. Home

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The "silk-stocking" population of suburban New York which wants world peace at any price—except in its own sacrosanct precincts—caught its Westchester county and Connecticut commuting trains into the metropolitan area today with a definite easing off of high blood pressure.

Permanent headquarters of the United Nations, it appeared, will be located on the Flushing Meadows site of the old New York World Fair—and not on the golf clubs and choice of homesites of the higher income bracket boys and girls.

Formal approval will be required by the forthcoming meeting of the full UN general assembly meeting, but the office Secretary General Trygve Lie pointed the way with an official statement indicating this solution was in the cards.

Economic Unity Plans Completed In Europe Zones

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor in the American occupation zone, announced today that detailed plans have been concluded for the establishment of economic unity in the British and U. S. occupation areas of Germany.

Clay said he expects the new arrangements will help German economy to become self-supporting, improve the economic condition of the German people, and allow a reduction of Allied subsidies to imports.

Plans call for the pooling of indigenous resources in the two zones to provide a common standard of living, uniform food rations and common imports and export policies.

Clay said bi-zonal committees have been established for food and agriculture, finance, communications, transportation and trade and industry.

Hickory Rolls List 364 Pupils

Two Changes In Faculty Notes As Hickory Town Ship Sessions Begin Tuesday

It was back to school for some 364 pupils Tuesday as Hickory Heights grade school and East Brook high began their fall sessions.

At the Hickory Heights building there are 194 youngsters comprising the first six grades, and at the East Brook school 68 make up the seventh and eighth grade list, with 102 in the ninth to twelfth grade group.

Two personnel changes were noted for the new term. Ted Bukowski has been added as a science instructor succeeding Jack Turner, who has accepted a position with Grove City high school.

Clare Hetrick Returns
Clare Hetrick, discharged from the armed forces, returns as a teacher in the seventh and eighth grades and will again handle the basketball team, as he did in former years.

He will succeed Dee Emerick in this duty. Mr. Emerick having tutored the cagers on a part-time basis last winter.

Vocational agriculture school will continue as in other years, with some 40 boys enrolled at present.

Many farm projects are scheduled for the term, this course proving one of the most popular at the East Brook school.

Improvements have been made on the athletic field, it was announced, the site having been plowed and graded to give the school a much better facility than in other years.

Tuesday evening the school board approved a $100 a year salary increase for the entire faculty, this sum being listed as a "cost of living" increase.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

By JULIAN HARTT
(Substituting While John Todd Is On Vacation)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Off the screen, Merle Oberon is as gay and cheerful a person as one could find. So it was a bit of a shock today to find her hanging up there on the wall with a tear in her eye.

To keep the record straight, this tearful Oberon is a portrait, hanging on the dining room wall of her comfortable, unpretentious Bel Air home. The pleasantly real-life Oberon was standing at your reporter's elbow.

Explained Merle:
"In a couple of months, now, that tear will be 10 years old. It really was in my eye the day the artist painted that part of the portrait, and he insisted on painting it in."

To a lot of incurable romantics—and who isn't?—the day Merle shed that tear is a well remembered one. For that was the day Edward VIII got on the radio and told the world he was giving up the British throne for "the woman I love," American-born Wally Simpson.

There was more in it for Merle than a mere news event. For one, she was then a British subject, by virtue of her birth in Tasmania. On top of that, Wallis Simpson was sitting then for a portrait by the same artist.

Made Better Monarch
Merle is sure that in the long run, George VI has made the better monarch. But she won't forget the poignancy of that day, nor how well it illustrated the adage about the "best laid plans of mice and men."

Merle recalled:
"The artist told me Mrs. Simpson had advised him she was leaving for France, but that she would be back shortly so he could finish the portrait."

"As you know, Mrs. Simpson never has been back to England, even though she later became Duchess of Windsor. The painter later came to the United States, and the portrait was finished in New York."

Merle herself had plans in those days—of plugging away for minor success in England under the stage name of "Queenie Thompson." Then a girl named Ann Todd was in a minor auto accident, and Merle was called upon unexpectedly to take her role in a British movie.

That picture was "Henry VIII." As a result of the role, Merle was skyrocketed to popularity, soon came to the United States, and rapidly established herself as one of the screen's favorites.

Now, however, Ann has hit the top too—especially in America with her work opposite James Mason in the English-made "Seventh Veil"—and there is no one happier about it than Merle Oberon.

And if it became necessary now for Merle to step aside for Ann in some future role, she'd do it graciously.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boston, of Arlington avenue, this city, have the honor of being the first couple to occupy one of the new apartments that has been designed through the remodeling of the former army barracks at Deshon Annex in Cunningham Park, according to an announcement from Cleland Povesan, member of the firm of Povesan and Bowers, who are remodeling the former army buildings.

When the project is completed the six buildings, will contain 12 roomy apartments, which include a kitchen, living room, bedroom, utility room and bathroom.

Employment Outlook Is Not Too Hopeful

USES Finds Most Plants Have Hired To Capacity; Solution Lies In New Industry

Although the total unemployment compensation has declined by approximately 2,200 claims during the past month, the employment outlook is still not too hopeful, according to George Gettings, head of the U. S. Employment Service office.

About evenly divided between servicemen who have dropped SRA claims and civilians who have dropped regular UC claims, the decline represents from 500 to 700 persons. Local employment of those still on the list, however, will depend on new industries because most of the plants now employing skilled and unskilled labor have hired as many workers as they can use, the USES reports.

Part of the solution lies in securing tenants for the small manufacturing plants and shops which have been abandoned during and after the war, but the main hope is in finding an industry to take over the Aluminum plant now owned by the War Assets Administration, stated Mr. Gettings.

A demand for skilled and unskilled labor is reported from the Youngstown area.

Here's what we have done in the First Post-War Year

THIS IS A RECORD of what we have accomplished in Pennsylvania in the first post-war year.

It is a record made against heavy odds . . . against material shortages which became increasingly acute . . . against a supply situation which at times became worse instead of better . . . against a plague of other reasons quite beyond our control.

But perhaps the biggest odds were the least predictable:

Demand for telephone service—new demand—skyrocketed to unprecedented heights . . . far beyond any previous experience in the company's history . . . far beyond our calculations and predictions . . . far beyond, it may almost be said, our comprehension.

In spite of all this, we have forged ahead.

And This is What We Did

- We added 206,000 telephones in Pennsylvania . . . or 100,000 more than we added during 1941, the biggest year, by a wide margin, in our history. ★
- We took more than 190,000 names off Pennsylvania waiting lists for telephone service, even while new demand was adding over 160,000 more. ★
- We supplied telephone service to almost 20,000 new families in the rural areas of Pennsylvania which we serve. ★
- We broke ground for the construction of nine new buildings, and began essential enlargements on four old. ★
- We made 161 dial central office additions and 87 manual central office additions. ★
- We installed 197,500 miles of wire in exchange cables. ★
- We took the first experimental steps toward introducing mobile radio-telephone service in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh—a service that ultimately will enable cars and trucks to have two-way telephone service to any telephone connected with Bell System lines. ★
- We spent nearly $30,000,000 for new telephone plant to serve Pennsylvania telephone users. ★

In short, we made real progress toward our goal—to provide the world's finest telephone service to anyone who wants it anywhere in the territory we serve.

But there's still a big job to be done

In some places, at some times, telephone service is not so good as we would like it to be—not so good as telephone users want it to be. When central office equipment must carry more calls by far than it was ever intended to carry, there are bound to be occasional delays. We don't like delays. It will take major additions to central office facilities to restore service to its accustomed round-the-clock high quality. That we're determined to do as fast as we can get what we need.

Not Permitted To Shoot Inside City

Police went to a section south of East Cherry street yesterday where three youths were shooting at clay pigeons. Their guns were taken to police headquarters, pending action by Mayor John F. Haven.

The boys explained they had been informed by persons who were in error, when they stated the "trap-shooting scene" was outside the city limits. The officers reported to Chief Robert D. Hanna that the youths were very polite and they were convinced the boys had made an honest error, hence it is likely their guns will be returned when they meet with the mayor.

May Sentence Heirens Today

Imprisonment For Rest Of Natural Life Is Indicated
As Court Decree

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Sentences which may imprison William Heirens, 17-year-old killer, for the remainder of his natural life were expected to be handed out to the youth in Chicago criminal court today.

Heirens, who pleaded guilty yesterday to three of Chicago's most atrocious murders, will be returned to court this morning to hear the completion of testimony of proof that he committed the crimes.

Most of the second day of the hearing is expected to be taken up with the reading of Heirens' 118-page confession that he murdered six-year-old Suzanne Degnan, ex-Wave Frances Brown, 33, and Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43, a widow.

This was to be followed by a stenographic report on Heirens' reenactment of the slayings and the introduction of stipulated evidence covering 24 burglaries and two assaults with intent to kill cases to which he also pleaded guilty.

Will Pronounce Sentence
Then, after hearing the recommendations of State's Attorney William Tuohy and pleas by Heirens' attorneys for the mercy of the court, Chief Justice Harold G. Ward will pronounce sentence.

Tuohy reportedly was ready to recommend that the former University of Chicago student be sentenced to serve consecutively life terms for the three murders. However, the court was not bound to follow any recommendation for sentence and was free to condemn Heirens to death in the electric chair if the judge so decreed.

Judge Ward warned Heirens concerning this discretion when the youth pleaded guilty to the three murder indictments.

Military Revolt In Brazil Seen By War Minister

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Fears of a military revolt in Brazil were intensified today by a warning of War Minister Gen. Pedro De Goes Monteiro.

He told newsmen, "Brazil is now at the same zero hour as last Oct. 29."

On that day the army ousted President Getulio Vargas.

Gen. Monteiro made his statement against a background of political confusion. The assembly is attempting to speed through a new constitution before Saturday National Independence Day, in an effort to head off a rumored military coup d'état.

Interest Mounts In Opening Grid Game At Stadium

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Assured Of Playing To Capacity Crowd

KICKOFF SLATED FOR 8:15 O'CLOCK

By the hour the interest in the New Castle high school opening football game with Erie East high Friday night at the stadium is mounting. The kickoff slated for 8:15 o'clock will find countless thousands of pigskin lovers in the stands. The gates will open at 7 o'clock and the lights will go up.

Another football season has rolled around. Phil Bridenbaugh is starting his 25th or silver anniversary year as head grid mentor here and with but four regulars back from the 1945 team. The outlook for a successful season is promising.

First Since 1936
Coach Jim Hyde is bringing his Erie East high team here for the purpose of avenging a setback 20 to 0 handed to East high back in 1936 the last year the two teams met. Just what kind of a team East has this year is not known here. They can be expected to provide a great opening day battle however.

Erie East will arrive in New Castle sometime Friday afternoon, and will take up quarters at the Castleton hotel. Arrangements have been made to quarter the Erie team all night at the Castleton.

No Electric Scoreboard

The electric scoreboard that has been ordered for the stadium has not arrived as yet.
The field has been put in excellent condition. The turf has never been better and never greener. The stadium caretakers have done a swell job. The seats have all been dented off. The lights have been renovated and everything is in ship-shape for the opener, with the exception of the weather and Faculty Manager Robert Mills is keeping his fingers crossed hoping for a nice evening.

"Red Hurricane" Ready

Bridenbaugh gave the squad a hard blocking drill yesterday and followed with a signal drill that found the boys responding with a spirit and aggressiveness that spells bad news for Erie East.

While there may be a last minute change in the lineup the first team Friday will probably be as follows to start the battle—Richards and Zeigler at the ends; Tate and DiCola at the tackles; Allison at center; Dean and Williams at the guards.

The backfield is all set with Clavelli probably getting the quarterback spot. Gribble and Brown at the halves and Gilmore at fullback.

The New Castle team will come on the field wearing new red jerseys with white numerals, the Erie team will wear white jerseys with red letters it was learned.
Erie is not bringing its famed band to New Castle, but the fine New Castle band has arranged a clever opening night ceremony that is bound to be pleasing to the eye as well as the ear, under Professor Joe Replogle.

Faculty Manager Mills announced the officials for the game as Carl Rebele, referee; Al Slack, umpire; and Yans Wallace as head-linesman.

WILL PLAY TONIGHT

The St. Vitus church softball team, champions of the Church league, will play the Weinschenks at the Dean Park field at 6:15 o'clock tonight, it was announced.

Two Local Boys In Arena Bouts

Leasure To Battle Gillespie And Elisco Will Meet Benish; Milnes On Card

Local flavor in the amateur boxing show in the Arena Monday night will be provided by Les Leasure versus Jim Gillespie, Akron, at 160, and Guy Elisco vs. Ed Benish, Youngstown, at 190, while Russ Milnes, Ellwood City, will box Pete Misto, Youngstown, at 147.

The main bout will find Lou King, Akron, opposed to Clarence Blair, Akron. King "kayode" Joe Izzo at Parrell. Blair lost a decision here to Bill Pozza.

Tommy Leach announced today that Don Petri, Beaver Falls, and Billy Myers, Youngstown, junior lightweights, had been matched, thus making up eight, three-round bouts.

Sons Of Italy Take Golf Title

Capture Second Half Crown In Sylvan Heights League In Final Match Last Night

Sons of Italy golfers, staging a tremendous drive during the past month, broke last week's tie, and emerged victorious as the second-half champions in the Sylvan Heights Golf League, Wednesday evening, by downing the strong New Castle Moose team, 3½ to 2½, as the Duca D'Abuzzi team fell before Ellwood City Moose, 4-2.

Frank DeMauro and Mitty Macioce paced the Ellwood City Moose golfers and the entire field with one-under-par rounds of 35 to top medal honors.

In the only other match played in the league, Standard Steel Spring nosed out Vernors, 3½ to 2½; Universal Sanitary and Johnson Bronze not playing, and United Engineering and Foundry drawing a bye.

Hackett Kennedy, of New Castle Moose, had a par round of 36, and other low scorers were Izz Solomon and Mike Lombardi, 37; Sylvan Heights, Harry Toscano, Frank Lasso, Andy Justine, S. Macioce, Timmy Lombardo, Felix Mele, 38's; with Carl McIlrort, Wainio, Claude, S. Bukowski, Fred Palmer, Chuck Pezzi, hitting 39's.

The Sons of Italy and Ellwood City Moose will meet in a regulation 18-hole match in the near future to determine the league title, in a match which should prove a thriller, as both teams boast some fine golfers.

The unofficial standing at the close of the season for the second half follows:
Sons of Italy 32½
Duca D'Abuzzi 31
Vernors 25½
Ellwood City Moose 23½
United Eng. and Foundry 23
New Castle Moose 23
Standard Steel Spring 20½
Universal Sanitary Mfg. 19
Johnson Bronze 10

KELVIN ROBERTSON, architect for the Australian Jockey club, now at Atlantic City, reported today that the major race tracks in Australia will be modernized because he has discovered that the mechanization and handling of crowds is vastly superior in the United States.

Mention of Sydney and Australia revived memories of decades ago when the patriarch of local boxing, George Chip, a former middleweight champion, engaged in possibly the most widely-publicized battle of his career in the Land Down Under. It was there, three weeks after he bet to say that had he his youth again he would again take up boxing "sea legs," he met Les Darcy and fell victim to anvil-like blows of the Australian, who promised Chip a return bout. However, Les Darcy sailed for America before the second meeting, and after being hounded in the United States, Les Darcy died from poison caused by teeth. "What would have happened in a second Chip-Les Darcy battle always will be unanswerable. Some claim Les would have repeated. Others believe that Durable George, in proper condition, may have gone the limit or "got away" with the blacksmith. After finishing as a middleweight fighter, George turned to refereeing. For years he was the official Pennsylvania Athletic commission third at the Jolly bowl. He also refereed in other cities and officiated at the first show conducted by Camp Shenango soldiers. Nowadays he is content to toll in a big, soft chair, and when he looks back over his life it is a safe bet to say that had he his youth again he would again take up boxing as a career. The middleweight fighters of this city who have attempted to step into Chip's shoes were his brother, Joe, George Perotta and today's Russell Baxter. The most consistent invader was Henry Firpo. Baxter is faster than either Perotta or Joe Chip, and is a more scientific boxer. He hits good. His list of fights is decorated with knockouts, proving kyo ability. He lacks the terrific punching power of George Chip and doesn't guard as well. It might not be a poor idea for Baxter to catch George alone some day, and if he does, Here & There is willing to bet Baxter will have learned something that will stand him in good stead as he battles along the pugilistic highway, a tough road.

A line of info from a person close to the powers who are, informs Here & There that Ne-Ca-Hi will have a sweet eleven this season and that it will be hurricane. . . . Pitt fans are saying nice words about Bobby Lee. . . . Foxcatcher Farms, owned by William DuPont, Jr., of Wilmington, has nominated Surosa, 4-year-old filly, for the Miss America handicap, $15,000 added, at Atlantic City, September 28. . . . The runners start Saturday at Warren, O. . . . Receipts of $102,208, established a pro record when Cleveland Browns won over Brooklyn, 35-30, at Akron. . . . Frank Summers, Bill Watkins and Herb Smith have worked like trojans to make today's field day a big success at the New Castle Country club. Frank made the rounds of all the courses and procured the pros and amateur golfers while Bill, who likes to see boxing now and then, took charge of the boxing angle and at 10 o'clock tonight, there will be four amateur bouts. After a confab between Bill and Here & There, the writer conferred with Tommy Leach and Leach will trot out his glove combatants when given the word. Smith, as chairman has tied all the pluses of the field day together and appears like a big success.

Clarance Blair who battles Lou King here Monday night fought a good losing bout with Bill Pozza, the Ellwood slugger, here last spring. King scored a technical knockout over Joe Izzo. They are 175-pounders. Lester Leasure, a local middleweight, will resume boxing against Jim Gillespie. . . . Talk of a proposed strike recently among Pittsburgh ball players was not the first strike in baseball, according to Margery Miller who reports that, in 1912, the Red Sox and Cubs struck before the fifth game of the World Series, delaying the game for more than hour. They complained that receipts from series games looked as though they would not get the pay promised. They did not get it, either, despite the strike. . . . After attending the Elks convention at Allentown, City Detective John Moore went east to see what Broadway looks like. . . . Dy Williams, former manager of Ray Gray, has returned from a vacation at Geneva-on-the-Lake.

Watt Gould, former O. & P. league pitcher, who conducted a hotel at West Middlesex has sold his interest, according to a West Middlesexan. . . . Joe Chip, former middleweight, is working in Pottsville. . . . Now is the time of year for hunters to put their guns in condition. . . . Won't be long now until Jack Herbert is life-guarding at Indian Creek club, Miami. He served at the New Wilmington pool this summer. . . . B. J. Bondi was the first deputy commissioner of boxing this city had. He served under Commissioner Harvey Boyle. He is now a local alderman. . . . Mention of alderman, brings to mind that Jimmie Brice, first ward, played baseball with St. Bonaventure. . . . Jimmie Thomas, fire chief, has recovered sufficiently to attend to most of his duties at fire bureau headquarters. . . . Grover Syling, police sergeant, is vacationing. . . . Young Zamiser, former boxer, is a carpenter by trade.

Ken Loeffler, one-time Penn State and later Yale University coach, has cast his lot with professional basketball. . . . Chuck Cherundolo, Pittsburgh Steelers center, was a standout in football at Penn State in the middle 30s.

Ellwood High Gridders Back From Camp Site

Coaches Croft Gills Pointing Wolverines For Browns-ville Opener 13th

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 5.—Head Coach Thurman "Dutch" Croft has his 1946 Wolverines back in town and has resumed drills on the Lincoln high school field, readying his legions for their grid debut at Brownsville, Sept. 13.

Out of a squad of 55 the ex-Carver Tech star took 35 to the county Boy Scout camp site where they slashed through a heavy schedule of conditioning and basic formations. Big "Dutch" and his line mentor, Howard Gills, have a better idea now of their squad and its capabilities and will begin the "polishing" job for the ambitious opener.

Poses Big Hurdle

The opener poses a big hurdle for the Wolverines, smashing head-on into a class AA opponent without benefit of a warm-up encounter and the Blue and White will have to be in tip-top shape to make their debut a success, especially since the clash will be on a foreign field.

Heated battles are being waged for the starting berths on the first team, and probably not until late next week will the Ellwood mentors make their selections for the opening gun.

With the picture somewhat cleared with the training camp period closed this is the situation to date as to positions:

Al Miller, halfback last year, seems to be the choice at one of the ends with the other a battle between Paul Kay, Frank Sulia and Mike Greck.

Tackle Is Fight

Tackle is a fight between Bobby Biceglin, guard last year, Carl Azostinelli and Emil Schuster, all letter-winners.

At the guards Jesse "Blondie" Fehl and Phil Konyak, center in '45 seem to have the inside track. At the pivot post it's a tossup between Paul Weigle, center, and Jim Pishloneri.

Charlie Milnes seems to have the fullback spot riveted down but is receiving competition from Larry Verone. Don O'Hara, sub pilot in '45, is doing most of the quarter-backing, but the antics of sophomore Billy Watters are getting him plenty of glances from the coaches.

At the halves George MacDougall and Tony Metz are the favorites but O'Brien, Calderone and Gatto are only a step behind.

Dukes-Bessemer Battle Sunday

It was announced today that the Duca D'Abuzzi baseball team of the City league will play the Bessemer team of the Lawrence County league at Marshall field Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Beckett-Mike Split Decision

160-Pounders Go 10 Fierce Rounds; Sarlin Beats Comiskey, Burton Defeats Lay

Cliff Beckett of Canada and Mike Berskovich of Niles, middleweights, fought 10 fierce rounds last night at Youngstown. Officials gave a split decision. One official awarded the bout to Mike, a second gave the decision to Beckett and a third termed it a draw.

Berskovich forced the fight and tried repeatedly but futilely to land a knockout on Beckett's jaw. Beckett protected his jaw well with his right glove and repeatedly countered with lefts to the body and head. He was craftier and more scientific.

Burton Defeats Lay

Pat Comiskey, Paterson, N. J. heavyweight, lost to Erv Sarlin of Pittsburgh at Forbes field, Pittsburgh. Erv climbed all over Pat in a dull 10-round bout. Sarlin weighed 183 and Comiskey 214.

In other 10-rounders on the card, Gene Burton, New York, defeated Dorsey Lay, Philadelphia, in a lightweight bout, and Ossie Harris, Pittsburgh, outpointed Dave Clark, Cincinnati, at 160.

Softball Series To Start Monday

After considerable bickering and wrangling the Forest A. C. and Sons of Italy softball teams, winners of the first and second half of the City-Industrial Softball loop, got together last night at the "Y" and agreed to start the series at Marshall field Monday at 5:45 o'clock. It was announced by Anthony Conn, who conducted the meeting.

NO CHURCH GOLF

Owing to Field Day at the Country club there will not be any church golf league matches tonight at Castle Hills. The church league will be resumed next Monday, it was announced.

In-again out-again Shorty McWilliams . . . may or may not quit West Point . . . but he definitely gets the boot from the Army football squad.

Browns-Seahawks Open Pro League

Big Crowd Expected To See Teams Launch All-American Loop At Cleveland Friday

CLEVELAND, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The opening gun for the All-American pro-football conference will be fired tomorrow night in the Cleveland stadium with the Cleveland Browns and the Miami Seahawks engaging in the first official tilt of the season.

A record crowd upwards of 50,000 was expected to be on hand for the kick-off, according to advance sales, and the right sort of weather might even fill the waterfront bowl to its 80,000 capacity.

The attendance prediction is based on the already record-breaking publicity furnished by the new football league.

The Browns were favored slightly over the Seahawks, due principally to Cleveland's surprising comeback last Friday night in Akron. The Browns spotted the Brooklyn Dodgers a 13-point lead and then walked them, 35 to 20, in a pre-season contest.

Eagles Tenpin League Is Set

A meeting of the captains and officials of the Eagles Tenpin loop was held last evening with six teams being organized for the season to start at the Castle alleys on Wednesday, September 18, at 7 o'clock, it was announced.

Indies Whitewash Universals 7 To 0 Michalojko Stars

Manager "Hoss" Zidow Elated As Mates Win City Baseball Championship Wednesday

CROWD OF OVER 4,000 AT GAME

The city baseball championship series could be called the "Return of Michalojko," for it was this sandy haired not too rugged young pitcher who recently came home from serving a hitch in the Appalachian league who tamed the Universal Pottery sluggers last night 7 to 0 with a two-hit performance that a crowd of over 4,000 fans thrilled at his coolness in the face of pitching the Lawrence Indies to the 1946 championship.

The victory was number four for the Indies in the current series and gives them the pennant. The first-half champs dropped the second game, but took three straight after opening the series with a win. Manager George "Hoss" Zidow has a great team, fitted to be called champions. They played championship ball all the way last night. They looked like a ball club doing it.

Michalojko Master

Young Mike Michalojko was complete master of the Universals as he blazed away with a fast one, a slow one and a change of pace that baffled the Pottery heavy hitters Huff, Bullock, Coulter and others. He fanned four batters and walked six but was never in trouble.

The victim was the veteran Pek Houston who despite the loss pitched a fine game and with a little better support would have made a different game out of it. The Universals fell apart in spots to record three playing errors, at crucial moments in the game. The teams battled on a 0-0 basis for the first three innings then the Indies broke out with a two-run attack in the fourth on a nice double by the veteran Johnny Russu, after a couple of errors had put Indies on base.

The Universals could not hit when hit Michalojko when hits would have meant runs. Henry Koszela the star Indies centerfielder had a lot to do with seeing that the Universals didn't score, making several circus catches of what looked like sure hits, while his brother "Cash" Koszela at second base also layed out.

Dodgers Staying Two Games Back

Brooklyn And Cards Both Win Wednesday, Reds Troupe Pirates

By PAT ROBINSON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Scrappy, pugacious ball clubs like the old Giants under John McGraw or the current Dodgers under Leo Durocher make plenty of enemies in the course of a season.

And those enemies can sometimes make a difference when the race narrows down to a dog-eat-dog stage as it has now. We don't mean to insinuate that any club would toss a ball game to another club. But we do emphatically mean that an inimical ball club will go all out to beat a team it doesn't want to see win the pennant whereas it may play lackadaisical ball against a friendly outfit.

Yes, it can make quite a difference whether a team is out there going through the motions or breaking its neck to beat a team it doesn't like.

Dodgers Top Braves

However, McGraw never minded what his enemies did and we don't suppose for a minute that Durocher does. Like McGraw, he probably feels that if the Dodgers have the stuff they'll win in spite of hell and high water.

They won again yesterday to stay two games behind the Cards who also won. The Dodgers, with Joe Hatten working against Warren Spahn, beat the Braves, 3-1, while the Cards found a soft touch in Hank Borowy and the Cubs, whom they trounced 8 to 1.

Reds Troupe Pirates

The Reds walloped three pitchers for 15 hits to trounce the Pirates, 6 to 0, behind Bucky Walters and Joe Egan, and the Giants bowed to the Phils, 6-5, on two homers by Seminick and one by Ennis.

The Red Sox boosted their lead to 16½ games by downing the Senators, 4 to 2, and now need only five more victories to clinch the American League pennant. Or five more defeats for the Yankees would serve the Red Sox purpose equally well.

Phil Marchildon held the Yanks to four hits in the A's 4-3 decision and Cliff Fennell held the White Sox to six hits as the St. Louis Browns won, 5-1. And the only daylight game saw Hal Newhauser rack up his 24th victory as Detroit topped the Indians, 4 to 1.

INDIES WHITEWASH UNIVERSALS 7 TO 0

a whale of a game, as did John Wagsiak at short.

The Indians came through with a four-run attack in the last of the seventh to put the game on "ice."

It was a tough break for the Universals who had expected to give the Indians a much better struggle for the pennant than they did. The pitching of Russu, and Michalok, was just too much for the Poters.

Play Wampum Series

Manager Zidow announced last night that the Indians have accepted a five-game series with the Wampum team, champions of the Lawrence County league. The first game will be played Sunday at the Wampum field.

The Indians are underdog on what field here in New Castle to use for their home field, Zidow stated.

The Indians won the series with the Universals by scores of 4-2, 9-6, 4-3 and 7-0. The Universals won the second game 9-8.

NAB "LAZY BANDITS" FOR STEALING AUTOS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Five "lazy bandits" today were in Pittsburgh's city jail on charges of auto theft and robbery.

The five, oldest of whom was 19, were identified by police as a gang which stole an automobile last night and cruised around the city holding up pedestrians and parked motorists. Police said they were dubbed the "lazy bandits" because they didn't bother to leave the auto during their stickups.

The U. S. A. is 7 to 5 to win the opener from the Mexican polo team next Sunday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—If brains were atomic energy, you wouldn't find enough in the fight racket to move a fly off a pin.

We are moved to this observation by the latest bit of stupidity disclosed by the New York state boxing commission Tuesday, when it vacated Marty Servo's world's welterweight title, because a busted nose prevented him from going through with his title fight against Ray Robinson Thursday.

Now we hold no brief for Servo. We think he himself is willing to fight anybody anytime. But his shrewd manager, Al Weill, has not been so willing to have Servo fight. Not, at least, before Servo has a chance to make some real money from the title he won from the washed-up Red Cochrane—a match which Robinson should have had.

Robinson Is King

Robinson has been, and still is, recognized as the uncrowned king of the welterweights. The commission should have insisted that he get the first crack at Cochrane, but the commission, for reasons never disclosed, sidetracked him in favor of Servo.

We have never believed in titles by mandate. They must be won or lost in the ring. And we doubt the power of the local commission to lift a crown from a champion. It's true, they can and have suspended him, but until somebody beats him, he is still champion in our book.

In any event, the national boxing commission says he is still champion insofar as it is concerned.

Jacobus Not Upset

And the NBA controls boxing everywhere except in two or three states in this country.

Promoter Mike Jacobs is not so upset about the cancellation of the Robinson-Servo bout as might be supposed. Already he is threatening to stage several bouts in its place in a so-called elimination tourney to "find" a champion.

Such a tournament would only add to the general confusion already existing in fight circles.

There would be no confusion whatever if the NBA had nationwide control of boxing, or even if the local fight people were willing to play ball with the NBA.

But the big money is in New York. Mike Jacobs is virtually the dictator of the fight racket everywhere. And the local commission always plays ball with Mike.

Ridiculous Attitude

The New York commission always has operated on the theory that if anybody disagrees with it on anything, the other fellow must be wrong. This attitude, of course, is ridiculous. But thus far the commission has been able to make it stick.

No amount of criticism, whether of behind-the-scenes deals or of $100 fiascos like the recent Conn-Louis affair, has been able to shake it. It is strictly a political organization, and always listens to its master's voice. And all too often that voice is the voice of Mike Jacobs.

The fight game needs a thorough house-cleaning but so long as the sucker money is available, and so long as the fight fan is willing to go for anything, we won't get it.

YOUTH UNAWARE HE CANNOT LIVE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Fourteen-year-old Robert Kane was back home in Scranton today—unaware that he has only a few weeks to live.

Robert had been in Jefferson hospital for a fortnight while doctors tried to halt a brain disease and restore his eyesight.

The boy's parents learned that his case was hopeless. He'd always wanted a plane ride, so they flew him home with him on his first and last ride in the air.

Which reminds us that little Ben Hogan can drive a golf ball with the best of them. . . . and Travis Jackson . . . who weighed 143 in his tons . . . used to knock them a country mile when he played short for the giants.

The Little Brown Jug stakes for trotters at Delaware, O., was named after a coin of that name which was taken off a farm truck to become one of the great paces of all time.

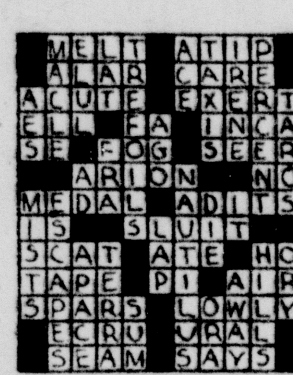

Bronco Kosanovich, of Aliquippa, who starred in the East-West game on New Year's Day, wants to make this his best year as a Penn State footballer. The 195-pound center worked as a laborer in a steel mill throughout the summer.

Former Merchant Seaman Held On White Slave Charge

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 5.—(INS)—FBI agents today held William P. Hogan, 22, former merchant seaman from Uniontown, on an alleged white slave violation involving international transportation of a pretty 21-year-old Belgium girl.

The girl, Maria Louise Schroyens, of Antwerp has been taken into custody in Baltimore, according to the FBI.

Authorities said Hogan admitted smuggling the girl aboard his ship, the S. S. Thomas Heyward, and eventually bringing her to Uniontown.

The former seaman told authorities he and Maria Louise planned to wed but later decided against matrimony.

We have a new figure Filbert in the sport world now. . . . He is Deke Houglate of U. S. C. . . . who is to football what Al Munro Elias was to baseball. . . . He has charmed the believe it or not . . . every football game ever played by more than 200 leading colleges and universities.

STATE COLLEGE — Art Tenhula, of York, former Penn State baseball pitcher, looks upon his overseas service as a rich experience. He attended Oxford University for one term, and also visited the Czechoslovakian birthplace of his mother.

Only major absentee when pre-season football drills got underway at Penn State was Tailback Bud Davis, of Pittsburgh. A back on the undefeated freshmen team of 1941, Davis wired he'd be late. "Getting married," he added.

Kiwanians Hear Dr. W. E. Flannery

Local Physician Discusses Advances Made In Medical Practice In Century

JOSEPH HARTMAN NEW PRESIDENT

New Castle Kiwanis club had a momentous meeting in The Castle-ton. Wednesday, when they heard a splendid address by Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery on the subject "American medical practice in the perspective of a century," and also elected officers for the coming year.

Joseph A. Hartman, principal of the Highland avenue and Arthur McGill schools, being elected president for the coming year.

Other officers chosen, on ballots which had been prepared for the occasion, were as follows: vice presidents, Thomas G. Allen and John R. Hodge; treasurer, Robert L. Meermans; directors for one year, R. D. Andrews, John A. McGrath and Robert L. Hodge; two years, Ralph Z. Galbreath, Kenneth M. McLure, with Martin R. Hornung and Coy N. Shellito tied; three years, John J. Alexander, Clarence M. England and Thomas L. Paden.

Delegates to the district convention in Philadelphia are Kenneth H. Beck, retiring president; Joseph A. Hartman, incoming president, and L. C. Mantz, secretary. Alternate delegates are John J. Alexander, William R. Hanna and Thomas L. Paden.

Dr. Flannery in his address told about the practitioner of a century ago, and of the various duties he was called upon to perform in addition to prescribing for his patients, compared to the knowledge and preparation a physician must have today, the additional length of his study and internship and the equipment he needs to set up a modern office.

Dr. Flannery also cited the many advances made in treatment, and the discoveries which have greatly lengthened the span of man's life-time, compared with a century ago such as antiseptics, anti-toxins, anaesthesia, the X-ray, sulfa drugs, penicillin and many others, and of the establishment of the public health service, which has done much to prevent the spread of epidemics.

His address was one of the most interesting heard in some time as proven by the rapt attention of his audience.

A survey is being conducted this year in Wyoming by mobile X-ray units to determine the extent of tuberculosis in the state.

Price Controls On More Items Lifted By OPA
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—OPA today lifted price controls from all lipstick, face powder, face cream, foundation cream and tooth paste selling for 25 cents or less per package.

The agency simultaneously announced that retail prices of venetian blinds would up 15 to 20 per cent.

OPA said that ceilings on the low-priced cosmetic items were being removed because it would have been necessary to adjust them to meet rising costs and that uncontrolled prices would not be any higher than adjusted ceilings.

It pointed out that controls automatically would be restored if prices went above 25 cents on any single item.

OPA also lifted price controls on tire liners, tire valves, rubber gloves and other rubber goods manufactured for medical, surgical, veterinary, mortuary and laboratory use.

The retail price hike for venetian blinds results from increases of 15
